"The Prediction" was told to writer Sushma Joshi by her father--it is considered a true story. Joshi's family were astrologers till her grandfather's generation, after which their branch of the family stopped practicing astrology. The word "Joshi" is a common surname derived from "Jyotish", which means Vedic astrologers, and is shared by both Brahmin and Newar astrologers in Nepal.

Paribandha, a Nepali short story by Pushkar Shamsheer. Translated by Theodore Riccardi, Jr. Toward evening Rane and his wife, Seti, had gone to visit some close friends. There had been a lot to eat and drink so that when they returned home they did not bother to cook but sat in the garden simply passing the time until nightfall.

Anita Tuladhar: Exactly at 5AM, we had to be seated in front of Ba with our books. If my brothers and I were even one minute late, Ba would not even look at us for 3-4 days. This tyrannical rule applied to Ma too - at 5:30AM, she had to bring tea for all of us. We each got 3 pieces of cream cracker biscuits, you know, the kind that came in a big tin from Bombay.
